TOP NOTCH WALKING PROVINCE? ABSOLUTELY!

‘There’s nothing plain about it. There is so much variety to the Flemish-Brabant landscape and so much to discover.’

Monique Swinnen
Tourism Representative

So, what makes Flemish Brabant the walking province? If you want to know, you’ll have to pull on a pair of walking shoes and see for yourself. Meanwhile, rest assured that you won’t be bored. Extraordinary sights along countless signposted footpaths are all that lie ahead! Mix and match nodes – physical and virtual – to create a walk that goes where you want and how far you want. Make it even easier on yourself with a themed loop trail; go for an extended trip along one of the three regional GRs or vanish into the green on a landscape walk. No one trip is alike with this variety in the Flemish-Brabant landscape and so much to discover and experience.

That journey begins as soon as you’re out of the hustle and bustle of Brussels and have landed in the Green Belt’s elegant parks and castle gardens. In the midst of this sublime greenery, Bruegel painted his most famous scenes, and you can still catch a glimpse of the very same churches and water mills. Wild yeasts mingle through the air, the source of the region’s unique lambic beers. Stalwart Brabant draught horses peer out inquisitively from their pastures, especially in the Brabant Kouters, where the Palm Brewery proudly displays this noble beast on its logo. Did someone say beer? Did you know this is the oldest and once largest hop region in Flanders?

The mammoth Sonian Forest takes you via the Grape Region and the Dyle River Valley into Silsom Woods and on towards Leuven, where you’ll soon reach Heverlee Woods and the Meerdaal Forest. These forests are bursting with oxygen and life. The sunken paths of the Mollendaal Forest lead you to the Velpe. This and the Winge, Demer, and Large and Small Gete Rivers criss-cross the hilly Hageland landscape, where vineyards, fruit orchards, sleepy villages and lively towns brimming with history await. And that’s just the tip of the iceberg of what’s within walking distance.

The wide array of things to see and do in Flemish Brabant is undeniable. It’s up to you to get out and explore them! The practical walk fact sheets at the back of this brochure are just a foretaste. They give you a great start, and once you’ve started – you won’t want to stop! The good news is that in Flemish Brabant there are so many more paths for you to explore!

AN OVERVIEW OF THE 24 WALKS

NEVER GET LOST AGAIN!

DO YOU ALWAYS WIND UP LOST? THAT MIGHT POSE A CHALLENGE THIS TIME AROUND, BECAUSE ALL OF THIS BROCHURE'S WALKS ARE SIGNPOSTED. THE SIGNPOSTS COME IN DIFFERENT SHAPES, SIZES AND COLOURS.

WALKING NODES

The walking networks are a network of routes where each intersection has been signposted with a node linked to a unique number. These red and white node-to-node signposts let you know which node you've reached. The arrows under the node number show what direction other nearby nodes are in. If you're between two different nodes, you'll find signs with a node number and an arrow pointing you in the right direction.

LOOP TRAILS

Do you have trouble choosing between walking networks? Then our themed loop trails are exactly what you're looking for. These trails are marked with hexagonal red and white signs with the name of the walk and an arrow indicating the direction you should follow.

'VIRTUAL' WALKING NODES

Virtual nodes are an innovative take on the classic, signposted nodes. The nodes are there, you just can't see or touch them. They are on the map though, and with the free 'Wandelknooppunt'-app, you've got them with you all the time.

WALKING IS FOR EVERYONE

Walking in Flemish Brabant is always good for the soul. And that's why we prioritise people who need additional support with our range of accessible walks for getting out and about in Flemish Brabant. This offer is also constantly expanding. Special signposting is provided along the way to identify these walks.

LANDSCAPE WALKS

In a dozen or so special natural reserves in the Hageland, the footpaths have been signposted with geometric figures in different colours. All of the landscape walks are signposted this way. Each shape depicts the length of the walk: a green stripe or a blue diamond indicates a short walk, an orange ball indicates a medium-length trip, and a red triangle will show you the way on long walks.

REGIONAL GRs

Are you an avid walker and are you happiest when the road before you seemingly stretches on without end? Well, the regional GRs were created with you in mind. These huge loop-shaped walks are a few hundred kilometres long and are signposted with the typical red and white and red and yellow signs of the Grand Route Paths. Flemish Brabant has three of these, i.e. the Hageland, Dijleland and Green Belt routes.

BRABANT DRAUGHT HORSE DAY

On the third Sunday of October, the Pajot village of Vollezele celebrates Brabant Draught Horse Day. Combined driving, shows, covered wagon rides, pulling demonstrations, inspections and the famous Brillantworp all play a part. Chocolate horses are thrown and whoever catches the gold one, wins a bronze Brillant statue. Brillant? He was the forefather of today's Brabant draught horses.

THE ZEPPOS MILL

After a stroll through the lovely village of Onze-Lieve-Vrouw-Lombeek, it should come as no surprise that the village was once voted the most beautiful village in Flemish Brabant. In fact, it was nearly named the most beautiful village in all Flanders. Just beyond the village borders and surrounded by fields, the mill has a certain idyllic charm about it. The Hertboom Mill is also known as the Zeppos Mill. This spot is where the beloved childhood Flemish television action hero, Captain Zeppos, once lived.

LAMBIC AND GUEUZE

The Zenne River Valley – did you know that traditional lambic beer is only produced here? By the light of the moon, brewers open their coolships to the night air and let the wild yeasts Brettanomyces Bruxellensis and Brettanomyces Lambicus do the rest. Gueuze is a mixture of young and old lambic fermented a second time in the bottle. Find out about this unique story at De Lambiek Visitor Centre in Beersel.

The 'Kappellekensweg' or 'Weg Oem' pilgrimage route, which passes a host of chapels, begins at Kruisborre Chapel – a beautiful protected heritage site. Learn the bleak legend behind this chapel, one riddled with remorse and involving a host stolen from the Eucharist and bloodstained wood chips. THE HOP REGION

It was only a few centuries ago that a clever brewer considered it: 'Why not throw hops in my beer?'. That idea turned out to be a smash hit, far better than the herbal mix that brewers had had to work with so far. Hops give beer its bitter taste and aroma. Hop cultivation flourished and the Asse, Affligem and Aalst region became the oldest and at one time, the largest hop region in Flanders. It's a tradition that's still alive and kicking!

CANNONS AND A SANDY BEACH

It wasn't so long ago that row upon row of cannons stood at the ready to defend the city. Nowadays you can sit in the mouth of a rusty brown cannon and enjoy watching the Demer River flow by. The now peaceful ramparts look idly on and stretch through to the Halve Maan Provincial Domain, a cheerful spot with no shortage of fun things to do. That's especially true on those sunny summery days when the huge swimming pool and its sandy 'beach' give you an instant holiday feeling.
